What We Hope For

Our aim at Journey's End—besides having fun—is to help children grow. To do this, we try to create a supportive, cooperative community that responds to each camper as an individual. We hope that each child's time here will increase their ability to live in harmony with each other and with nature. We also hope that being at camp will help each child to become more committed to these goals.

Our actions teach our values much more strongly than our words. As an influential role model to the campers, we hope you will:

- Enjoy working and playing with children
- Be positive toward others
- Favor cooperation over competition
- Be hard-working [and enjoy it!]
- Be listeners: to children, to each other, to nature, to the voice within yourself
- Appreciate quietness as well as activity
- Communicate freely, sincerely, and sensitively
- Be committed to nonviolent resolution of conflicts
- Be non-sexist and non-racist
- Enjoy a rustic lifestyle with few conveniences
- Be patient, understanding, and flexible
- Place the needs of children, and camp as a whole, before personal desires
- Be able to handle stress
- Appreciate the natural world and want to preserve and care for it
- Be prepared to get up by 7 a.m. each day (except cooks)

Some Requirements:

We feel strongly about the following, as we are all role models for the campers we live, work, and play with. If you cannot willingly and cheerfully abide by these policies, you should not apply to work at Journey's End.

STAFF SHOULD NOT USE TOBACCO

STAFF SHOULD NOT DRINK ALCOHOL

STAFF SHOULD NOT USE ANY OTHER RECREATIONAL OR ILLEGAL DRUG

Staff should not communicate an attitude that promotes the use of any of the above.

ALSO: If you need a significant amount of personal or private time on a daily basis, this type of job may not be for you.

Journey's End Farm Camp

Counselor Job Description

Journey's End is a camp which also strives to be a community. We are committed to helping children enjoy themselves, learn useful skills, and accept responsibility. These values are taught through our own actions and interactions. We combine practical skills with the ideals of old-fashioned living and a hopeful future vision.

Counselors at Journey's End have a wide variety of responsibilities. You will be leading activities; supervising work jobs, play times, or rest period; helping children tend animal chores; packing, leading, and organizing overnight campouts; and supervising/helping with bunk and bathroom cleanup. There is an element of teaching in all of this. You will share in dishwashing, and in sweeping and mopping floors. Your specific focus for activities will vary according to camper interest, and your own skills, interest, and initiative. We encourage you to be creative and use the natural resources of the farm (animals, woods, fields, creeks, pond, swamps) as much as possible.

You will be with children—responsible for their well-being—at all hours, six days per week. You will have seven days off during the eight-week season, and an additional hour or two several times a week. There are evening staff meetings twice weekly after the campers' bedtime. Most other evenings there will be some time for socializing, reading and writing, or preparing for the next day, with counselors taking turns on bunkhouse duty. We ask that you get to bed reasonably early (for college students)—by 11 pm—in order to adequately meet the demands of the camp schedule. As a counselor, you will be a role model and mentor to both campers and younger staff members. This is an often stressful but nearly always rewarding role to fulfill and, in general, you should be prepared for an intense and enjoyable summer.

If a director, assistant director, or coworker offers you advice or counsel on the job, it is expected that you will respond to their direction, if not immediately then in consultation with an assistant director that same day.

Camp life is simple and rustic. You will be sharing the (mostly) unlighted bunkhouses with the campers. Bathrooms (with shower, sink, and toilet) are a short walk from the sleeping quarters. We hope that you are not dependent on electronic entertainment. If you bring an iPod, Kindle, cell phone or other electronic media devices, please limit use to days off away from campers. Laptops must be kept on the counselor porch and we ask that you keep their use to a minimum.

We are less regimented than many camps. This allows for more flexibility and requires more commitment. You'll be working with other staff, leading or assisting with activities most of the time, and taking sole leadership at other times. Campers and counselors alike enjoy the warm community atmosphere and the emphasis placed on individual needs and strengths.
